

this goes to press, Grace is headed to New Orleans for a wedding on 3 Sep. On her return to California, she'll close escrow, bring in the contractors for a quick-turn remodel, and move in two weeks later to her remodeled home in West Hills, CA (west end of the San Fernando Valley).

Report from the Stork. Dave & Ellen Garza welcomed Michael David into the world on 5 Aug. Michael weighed in at 7 lbs., 1 oz. and 20¾ inches. Jim & Penny (Lenz '90) Glackin are pleased to announce the birth of Tressa Marie Glackin on 28 Jul at 8 lbs., 4 ozs., 21 inches. Scott & Amy Peters waited almost eleven years and are very excited to announce the birth of Nathan Tillar Peters, born on 3 Aug in Rochester Hills, MI. Nathan tipped the scales at 6 lbs., 19½ inches (2.72 kg, 49.5 cm for our European friends). We'll let Scott tell the story—"I figured if Joe Manausa and Lou DeAngelo could do it, what's the big deal." Scott added, "Nathan's middle name has a connection to our class that may be worth mentioning. We decided years ago to honor our friend and former classmate, Donnie Tillar, who was shot down on the last day of Desert Storm in 1991. While I didn't know Donnie very well when we were classmates at school, Amy & I became close to him at Ft. Riley. I may as well give you the low down on the rest of our life up here in Motown. After what seemed like ten years of night school and weekend paper writing, I finished up an MBA last December. Most people suspect (correctly) that I entered the program at Oakland University because it got me a great deal on the greens fees at the university golf course (a 3-wood from the house), but it actually worked out in other ways as well. A major reorg at my company, automotive supplier MacLean-Fogg Co, opened a nice position at the same time I finished school. As the world's luckiest person, I should be accustomed to such twists of fate, but I was giddy nonetheless. As Vice President of Marketing and Sales for the $215MM automotive division, I get to travel a fair amount, but more importantly the access to golf and flying was not cut off. Amy, Nathan, and I still reside in the northern Detroit 'burb of Rochester Hills."

As we prepare to go to press (literally hours before we zapped this off to AOG), we got e-mail from Rosie Ruiz, I mean Dave Mikolaites. He wants to clear his record so I'll drop his e-mail in here, as he writes it "In reference to the fact that you saw me running this past Boston Marathon—it was true. I was looking pretty fresh because I was running with my girlfriend. I jumped in at mile 15 and ran the last 11 with her (4:07 for her first time). But, I have run Boston in the past (1996, the 100th running). I did qualify at Marine Corps in 1995 with a 3:07. Hopefully (ankle injury), I will run another one this fall."

Thanks for letting us have some fun with your story, Dave! In Dave's defense, he is doing his "Duty, Honor, Country" best as a member of the Massachusetts National Guard Special Forces. He mentioned that he spends a bunch of time on deployment to South America and has some advice on how to have a good time if you travel in that direction. Dave also shared some news of Matt Petrocelli who now is a professor of Criminal Justice at Cal State-Hayward. Petro just married in July in Chicago.

That looks like about all we've got for this column. Hope to see a bunch of you at Army-Navy in Philly this year. If you need some R&R in ski country (Ski Utah!) give us a ring here in Park City, UT. Our Country We Strengthen!

We had an uneventful trip to Tunisia and have finally settled in. Thanks for your thoughts and prayers.

Dan Rice broke his code of silence and sent an update/correction to a previously published "Class Notes" column. Thanks for keeping me straight, Dan. Dan would like to thank Joe Volpe for keeping me straight as well. Dan lives outside of Philadelphia where he is the vice president of Marketing for B. Braun McGaw, a multi-million dollar manufacturer of medical devices <www.bbrousa.com>. Every other weekend, he flies to Chicago to complete his master's at Kellogg. When Dan left the Army from Ft. Carson, Pat Mackin and he were roommates. Since then, he has seen Pat regularly, and was in Pat's wedding a few years ago. Next, Pat and Dan were classmates, and study group-mates at Kellogg (Northwestern). Pat is very successful in the medical field. He is the vice president of Sales and Marketing at Genzyme Surgical, another multi-million dollar company specializing in cardiovascular surgery. Pat & Nicole live in Atlanta. He and Dan graduated in June from Kellogg. Dan recently visited war-torn Yugoslavia as a representative of his company. They donated much-needed medical supplies to the refugees leaving Kosovo. He visited a refugee camp with some aid workers, including the real Patch Adams and his troop of clowns, during the bombing of Kosovo. Dan reports it was an incredible and very memorable trip.

Dan also reports that Craig & Libby Hurley are doing fine, living in the marina district of San Francisco, where Craig is a VP at Soloman-Smith Barney. Libby is a physicians assistant. Dan also is neighbors with Glenn & Tara Harrington, and sees them regularly. They have two kids, T.J. (7), and Jill (4). Glenn sells software, and his family and business are doing incredibly well. Dan sends his best to everyone, especially GATORS. You can contact Dan at <DANR88@aol.com>.

Chris & Wendee Anstead just had a baby girl, Ashlee. Chris is in West Palm Beach practicing law in a firm called Greenberg and Traurig. Regards to all from Tunis. Keep writing and God bless.

Greetings to all Who Strengthen the Line. By the time this issue hits your mailboxes, the 10-Year Reunion and the Army-Navy game should be over. As I write, however, neither have happened yet. I will tell some stories in the next issue about the Reunion.

Jim & Patty Nachazel sent a photo of Jim's birthday party in July 1999. It seems fellow '89ers from the Bay Area, Al Hogue, Skip Phillips, and Chris Melancon, stopped in for the festivities. Jim works for Lucent technologies and he & Patty have two sons, Jack (4) and Luke (1). Jim & Patty plan to see everyone at the Reunion in October.

Speaking of festivities, Jim & Marie Callerame had a wedding bash in Las Vegas on 22 May 99. Tom Champion for-
