

Team (PIT), Program Development Division (PDD), Program Analysis and Evaluation (PAE), Deputy Chief of Staff for Programs (DCSPRO). Maybe they've done away with the signs and office numbers at the Pentagon and all those words are necessary to find Ted's office. In any event, Ted found his way out of the Pentagon long enough to attend to the birth of his second child, Jacob Joseph Frederick, who was born 1 Apr 01 and measured 21" long and 9 lbs., 1 oz. Monica and Jacob are doing great and Sarah is a proud sister. Sharing a corner Pentagon office with Ted is John Ferrari with the same paragraph long signature block. He & Andrea welcomed their first child, Matthew George, on 20 Mar 01. He was 20½" and 8 lbs., 15 oz.

Nate & Barbara Hope announced the birth of their son, Nathaniel Demetric Hope II. Nathaniel was born on 28 March and was 8 lbs., 8 oz., and 21". Both mom and baby were doing fine. This brings the Hope clan to a total of four boys: Austin (10), Eugene (10), Leighton (3), and Nathaniel.

In other news, Don Monteyne announced his new position at AOL. Given the volatility of our AOL stock, it is nice to know that a classmate is watching over things. Don writes, "Today, I started a new job with Time Warner Cable, a division of AOL Time Warner in Stamford, CT. I joined the marketing team as the product manager for internet services focusing on the multiple ISP project with AOL, Road Runner, EarthLink, etc. It is a newly created position due to the merger conditions by the FTC and FCC. My past position for Lucent was Sr. Marketing Manager for the Broadband Cable Access team so it seems like a natural fit. Although I'm buying more shares of Lucent stock (mainly due to the spin off of Agere at the end of the month), it will take a while before the price moves up. AOL Time Warner rallied nicely today so I hope for some growth opportunities for the years ahead. We still live in Wayne, NJ. Any commuting tips from New Jersey to Connecticut are welcomed. I'm not sure who if anyone from our class is in the Stamford area (I'm at 290 Harbor Dr.), please let me know. Also, if anyone works with AOL Time Warner or another ISP, please let me know so we can get together."

Major fly man, Mike Gajewski checked in with his latest airline update. Mike recently used his flying privileges to take a visit to Hawaii with Jocelyn. They stayed a few days with John & Darcy Lynch at Wheeler Army Air Field before heading out to explore the big island for a week. Also ran into Steve Heidecker on post. Mike & Jocelyn bought a house in San Diego last October and say "we have lots of room and the weather is almost always perfect (invite is open for visits anytime)." Mike continues to commute to Dallas to fly international trips to Europe, South America, and Hawaii—it's a tough life, but someone has to do it. He will transfer to LAX this summer to fly "boring old domestic trips" but looks forward to being closer to home. If you are flying American, keep your eye out as you pass the cockpit.

Todd Friedman moved back to the east coast. Todd is in Ft. Lauderdale, FL. The cross-country move from California was far from entertaining! Todd made the move with this current employer, Cycore, and works from his home in between beaches and bar visits.

While some classmates were visibly upset over the plethora of automatic out of office messages (somewhere north of 25 messages), from Dean Batcheleder, it did generate some humorous traffic. Dean wrote, "I'm sorry if you received several copies of my automatic out of office message. Don't know why the system went haywire. Maybe it has something to do with that lowest bidder thing. At any rate, thanks to my friend and former area bird, Doug Tumminello, for calling the office to have it turned off. By the time I borrowed a co-worker's laptop, logged in, discovered the problem, and called back to our computer gurus, they had already turned it off. Again, I apologize for the inconvenience." No problem, Dean. Thanks for giving us some additional fodder for the column.

Gunter Seeger checked in on the Batcheleder brouhaha. Gunter recently left New York City and moved back to Atlanta, GA. "If anyone in the ATL wants to go out, get really drunk, bowl, golf, play darts, and talk about vector calculus. I am here (404 237-4689)." Also, we can cease all vicious rumors. Gunter is engaged these days.

Park City is awesome in the summer. Any classmates heading west from CSCG, please feel free to stop in and enjoy the mountains.

Greetings '88. I received a note from the long-lost Michael Todd Hawn, currently stationed in Germany with his lovely wife Elizabeth and their children. Mike finally got rid of his 1993 Mac PC and now has a new e-mail address, free with his new computer. Mike also sent a rare photo of him with his family. Isaac has just turned three and Bethany is seven-months-old.

Joe Volpe also sent an update. Joe (a lawyer in the federal district of Little Rock) is often seen marching about the campus of UVA during his weekend NG training. He recently ran into Brian Mahoney, A-1, who is close to completing a master's at UVA in some sort of heavy-duty science-math-computer track. In between going to class, Brian works as a consultant for GPS equipment and goes on some tough assignments including recent trips to Rio (Brazil) and Taiwan. Brian is doing very well and, as expected, is making up for the four years he missed out working on college co-eds.

Dave Velloney, A-1, is still on Active Duty. He was accepted in the FLEP program a few years ago and got a full ride to Yale Law School. Currently, Dave is going through the JAG Graduate Course and will be a faculty member in the Criminal Law Department upon completion. He & Felitzia have three lovely daughters.

John Crocker, B-1, also is at the JAG Graduate Course after a few years stint as a JAG in Germany. John Egan, A-1, is selling pharmaceuticals for Merck. He & Finola still live in Annapolis and they have three children. Word is that Egan is secretly employed by USMA as a spy.

Joe also reports and was confirmed through ABC News that Meg Forman, A-1, who is also a JAG, represented the infamous SSG Ronghi. Although a tough case, that kind of case would not be assigned to just anyone! Finally, reference the John Powers, a.k.a. Max Steele® issue, Joe has it on good authority that the manufacturer of the action has a new line that looks exactly the same but is called, "G.I. John." Go figure! Thanks, Joe.

Keep writing and God bless.
