

Air Force graduate & his spouse. For those of you who dive, we highly recommend the Osa Peninsula area in S. Costa Rica. We look forward to hosting other classmates in need of a mountain retreat. It is often said that people come to Park City for the winters, but stay for the summers. The days are clear, warm, and long and the season offers countless activities—concerts in the park, Jazz Fest, Art Festival, and lots of mountain biking, hiking, golfing, and fly fishing to name a few.

Hello all. We should be a month away from our 15th reunion. Scott Snair sent a note with some basic facts and contact information for those who have yet to search the web on the subject.

The reunion website is now up. Go to <www.west-point.org/class/usma1988/> to purchase event tickets online, obtain hotel information, see the reunion agenda, and find out which classmates have already signed up to attend.

The ticketed events include a Thursday night welcoming reception at the Sheraton Hotel (16 Oct 03), a Friday evening informal class party at the Sheraton (17 Oct 03), and a Saturday evening post-game tent party at Buffalo Soldier's Field (18 Oct 03). Ticket prices are $5 for Thursday's reception, $47 for Friday's party, and $35 for Saturday's party. We are charging a small administrative fee for contract services provided to our committee by EMR Agency in Highland Falls and a full-time, onsite hostess that will help point people in the right direction throughout the weekend. We budgeted this reunion to come in at cost.

Please access the website and purchase your event tickets as soon as possible. You will be doing the class and your graying class chair a tremendous service. You are welcome to call Scott with your questions or comments at 973 761-9742, or e-mail him at <Snair88@aol.com>.

Chuck Crosby finally dropped a note. A little back ground, Chuck's mother, Sharon, and I worked together often while I was assigned to that five-sided doohickey in DC. I think Chuck finally realized that no matter how old we are, we still must listen to our mother. Chuck got out of the Army in 1992, and went to work in the transportation industry. He missed the military, so he joined the National Guard (what that has to do with missing the military I don't know... just kidding). Chuck liked it so much that he went on active duty in the National Guard in AGR status. He is stationed at the National Guard Bureau in Arlington, VA. Chuck & Vanessa have two kids—Connor (10) and Taylor (2). Chuck plans to make the 15th reunion this fall so if you want to see him please reread the paragraph above and have a good time. God bless and keep writing.

Greetings to all those who Strengthen the Line from the heights of Uijongbu and the Second to None Division! Meanwhile, many of our fellow classmates are scouring the arid mountains of Afghanistan or blitzing across the endless deserts in Iraq. The nation has called upon us all once again and '89 is there with all the rest of the LGL. I hope this finds each of you and your families well and keeping the faith. I have a few short updates.

Chuck & Kristen Correll send their best from Connecticut, where Chuck is a partner in a law firm. They enjoy their four children: Tres & Breanna (8½), Justin (7), and Nathan (4½). Apparently, they travel from one ball game to the next in the Suburban. (I'm sure after being made partner, they will soon transition to a Jaguar!) They have been in touch with Telita Crosland (a fellow I-3 Polar Bear), who is at Levenworth for CGSC. Need photos of the clan next time, Chuck. Thanks for the update.

Just a reminder that our 15-Year Reunion is about 12 months away by time this edition hits the press. Class president Brian Roberts has been working the foundations of this event with class VP Steve Miller and fellow class officers Ed Moore, Nate LaMar, and Warren Heames. They are attempting to set the weekend with USMA and then we will get the word out to everyone so we all can mark our calendars. As an update, I know Ed works for Pfizer; Nate has been recalled to active duty for his Arabic talents; Steve is busy in New Jersey; and Brian is skiing in Colorado. Much more certainly to follow both here and on the class webpage.

Gripes & Rumors. James Raymer is rumored to have moved into what used to be a general officer's house out at Camp Howze. It comes complete with fireplace, solarium, indoor swimming pool, putting green, driving range, and a wet bar. James remarked however that there was not enough room to do push ups. Keith Flail reputedly has begun marketing a new baby velcro outfit that straps kids down to their beds. So far, there a few marketing firms that have expressed interest, but many question the ability to make kids stick. Ken Griggs kept some nasty two-liter bottles of Copenhagen spit for several years since graduation; now I guess Dr. Ken is using these same items for some research and poised to make some big money off of them—amazing what you can earn with excess junk!

The Class of '89 serves onward—for the Army, for the nation, and for one another. That's all for now. As always, see you in the field or at the club. Scouts out. Second to None. All the best to each of you from Kyoung & me here in Uijongbu. Please keep the updates and tall tales coming! We Strengthen the Line.

I am starting the column off this time with the overflow from the last column (a class first). Ray, Chris, and Joshua Cho proudly announce the birth of Timothy Joseph Namjoon Cho, on 21 Mar 03. He was 5 lbs., 16½ inches, and was born at Ireland Army Community Hospital, Ft. Knox, KY. Photos are posted at <home.insightbb.com/~raycho/>.
