Jerry Kobylski dropped a note from his humble abode near Highland Falls. Jerry & Trudy have added to the Kobylski clan with the birth of Claire Elizabeth. Claire has grown immensely and is in fact in the 100th percentile—just like her dad, except better looking. Trudy's mom moved to the WP area from Pennsylvania and has been watching Claire every day. Lauren (7) is in second grade at Sacred Heart in Highland Falls. She definitely likes reading more than math. Little remedial training needed there, Jerry. Emily just began kindergarten. Jerry is halfway through a three-year doctoral program but says if anyone needs a place to stay when they are in the USMA grid square, look him up.

Congratulations to all of our classmates out on the battalion command list. God bless and keep writing.

Greetings to all those who Strengthen the Line from the heights of Uijongbu and the Second to None Division! I hope this finds you well and keeping the faith.

Class President Brian Roberts writes that we have our Homecoming and 15-Year Reunion date: 7–10 Oct 04. Brian and Class Vice President, Steve Miller, are working diligently to ensure our 15-Year Reunion is even better than previous gatherings. The site for our class lodgings will be the Park Ridge Marriott in Park Ridge, NJ. Please check out the class website where Warren Hearn dutifully keeps us updated on all class events.

I include this photo of Fritz Hager doing what he does best: moderating a plenum of associates. Last September, “Mr. Model UN” chaired a forum of veterans at the Dallas V.A. Medical Center, to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the Italian campaign. Fritz performed again with distinction as the panel moderator.

Here in the Land of the Morning Calm, we had a great Founders Day in Seoul on 6 March. Fellow '89ers in attendance included: James Raymer, Dave Danikowski, John & Eunah Kim, Ernie Lee, Steve & Mary Tracey, and Kyoung & me. Our guest speaker was GEN Shin '71, who is the first Korean graduate of West Point and Deputy Commander of United Nations Command and the Commander of Combined Forces Command.

Gripes & Rumors. James Raymer is rumored to have moved into what used to be a general officer's house out at Camp Howze. It comes complete with fireplace, solarium, indoor swimming pool, putting green, driving range, and a wet bar. James remarked however that there was just not enough room to do push ups, however. Keith Flail reputedly has begun marketing a new baby Velcro outfit that straps kids down to their beds. So far, there are a few marketing firms that have expressed interest, but many question the ability to make kids stick. Ken Griggs kept some nasty two-liter bottles of Copenhagen spit for several years since graduation; now I guess Dr. Ken is using these same items for some research and is poised to make some big money off of them—amazing what you can earn with excess junk!

Scouts Out & Second to None! Kyoung & I wish all the best to you and your families. The Class of '89 rocks on. We Strengthen the Line!

Greetings '90. I hope that this column finds you well and that our classmates deployed to OIF have returned safely. Dave & Jeanine Smith sent in this photo as well as greetings from DC. Dave is working on the BRAC for 2005. No, there aren't palm trees in DC. The photo was of Dave, Jeanine, Gunner, and Madeline on vacation in San Diego.

Not much mail this month, so that is all for now. Send your updates in so I can take up our class' share of space next issue! The Proud and the Mighty!
